

It's a PEANUT FREE SEPTEMBER in 2016!!! at the Kinsey Family Farm

We heard you . . . and now we are responding. ☺

Fall brings lots of traditions . . . pumpkins, jack-o-lanterns, hayrides, and BOILED PEANTUS! However given the recent rise in peanut allergies many of our Atlanta area families cannot bring their children to the local farms to participate in the fall activities because we all serve boiled peanuts. Due to the widely expressed frustrations from a multitude of families with this issue last year we initiated a “peanut free September” trial run. And given the success and many great moments that were witnessed last year with this we are going to do it again. During our Fall 2016 season the Kinsey Family Farm will not be cooking or serving any boiled peanuts until October 1st. We know this isn't a perfect solution for everyone, but it's a good starting point and most of all it allows children to get some fresh country air! And that's something we at the KFF believe is a great benefit to us all!!! We look forward to seeing you all out here at the farm! ☺
